Dear Mr. Lee:

Your letter of January 4, 1955 to General John E. Hull has been forwarded to me as a matter pertaining to the Ryukyu Islands.

The activities of your organization in combating communist aggression and communist penetration against the free world is a most laudable cause toward which all democratic countries should strive in order to protect their own established form of government. For the past several years the United States has fought this communist aggression and penetration on many fronts, and has lent support to other nations to aid them in this fight.

The Civil Administrator and I, as Deputy Governor, shall continue our endeavors against communist penetration into the Ryukyus and with the support of the local population prevent its infiltration into these islands.

May I express General Hull's and my own appreciation to you for your recent letter.

Sincerely,

D. A. D. OGDEN
Major General, U. S. Army
Deputy Governor

Mr. Young P. Lee, Chairman

Dear Mr. Lee:

Your letter of January 4, 1955 to General John W. Ball has been forwarded to me as a matter pertaining to the Ryukyu Islands.

The activities of your organization in combating communist aggression and communist penetration against the free world is a most laudable cause toward which all democratic countries should strive in order to protect their own established form of government. For the past several years the United States has fought this communist aggression and penetration on many fronts, and has long support to other nations to aid them in this fight.

The Civil Administrator and I, as Deputy Governor, shall continue our endeavors against communist penetration into the Ryukyu Islands and with the support of the local population prevent the infiltration into these islands.

May I express General Ball's and my own appreciation to you for your recent letter.

Sincerely,

D. A. D. O'NEILL
Major General, U. S. Army
Deputy Governor

Mr. Young P. Lee, Chairman
Asian Peoples' Anti-Communist
General Liaison Office
Seoul, Korea
