Dear General Taylor:

I do want to thank you for your letter of January 17 and to let you know that I have come home from the hospital feeling like a well man.

We are certainly indebted to the Army for the medical services which were made available to us and especially for the marvelous services rendered by the Army doctors.

Thank you again for the beautiful flowers which you sent to me when I was in the hospital. Mrs. Rhee and I enjoyed the flowers and deeply appreciated your thoughtfulness.

Our best wishes to you and Mrs. Taylor.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ Syngman Rhee
