4 December 1954.

My dear Mr. President:

The lawyer I told you about today is

Col. John A. Carrigan,
Headquarters, TIC,
Fort Benning, Georgia.

Colonel Carrigan is a Graduate of Michigan University, practiced law for several years, and was serving in a Judicial position when he was called into Service.

He is a Christian gentleman, well versed in the law, and loves Korea and your people.

If a request is made and approved, I am sure he will gladly come back to Korea. I know of no one in the States more worthy of trust, and if there is anything I can do to effect his assignment, please command me.

May I take this opportunity to express my thanks to you both for a 'visit home' today.

Respectfully yours,

Orville Chatt
