Mr. Miyake's tentative suggestion of September 20, 1957, as amended by the Korean side

(DRAFT AGREED MINUTES)

4. Minister for Foreign Affairs of Japan:

With regard to the problems of property claims, I understand that the "Statement of U.S. Position on Interpretation of Article 4 of the Japanese Peace Treaty with Respect to the Korean-Japanese Claims Settlement" dated , 1957 does not signify the reciprocal renunciation of property claims and does not affect the Korean claims prejudicially, and that it does not preclude the same Korean proposal on Korean claims as put forward to the previous Korea-Japan overall talks from being submitted by the Korean side for discussion and settlement at the overall talks to be resumed.

In case such proposal is submitted by the Korean side at the said overall talks, the Japanese side will discuss for settlement the Korean claims with all its sincerity.

I further understand that the Government of the Republic of Korea is also of the same opinion with the said U.S. Statement in the above contexts.

Chief of the Korean Mission in Japan:

It is also my understanding.
